

Task agnostic models

We have seen how

- Large Language Models seem to learn a "universal" representation of language
- We can use Transfer Learning to re-use the representation for many other tasks

